REUNION SIDE TRIP.

Confederate Veterans May Get Rate to St. Louis.

At a recent meeting of the South-eastern Passenger Association held in St. Louis, the question of granting Confederate Veterans a rate of one cent a mile to St. Louis from Nashville, following the reunion there, was discussed, but it was decided to defer action on it until the next meeting of the association, which will be held at Atlanta on May 18. It is probable that the veterans will be granted such a rate as has been asked for.

INDICTED FOR MURDER.

Louis Wilbert, Who Killed Gus McIntosh.

The Hopkins county grand jury returned an indictment against Louis Wilbert, charging him with willful murder for the killing of Gus McIntosh at Mannington.

PARKER LEADS.

Has Ninety-Four Delegates to Hearst's Sixty-Four.

Claimed That Gov. Beckham Has Left Hearst Forces of Late.

Democratic Situation.

For Judge Parker..... 94
For W. R. Hearst..... 64
For Richard Olney..... 24
For Tom Johnson..... 2
Uninstructed delegates..... 156

Chicago, May 7.—There has been much activity among the presidential possibilities during the past week. The Hearst forces carried Iowa and Judge Parker swept the state of Connecticut. Judge Parker is in the lead with instructed delegates. There have been one hundred and fifty-six uninstructed delegates selected to the national Democratic convention. The next state convention to be held is in Alabama on Wednesday next. The Parker men are claiming all of the twenty-two delegates.

Wants Parker's Position.

New York, May 7.—The New York Times, editorially, is calling upon Judge Parker to tell where he stands on the issues concerning the party. The Times is for Judge Parker, but believes he should speak out.

Gov. Beckham Not For Hearst.
A special to the St. Louis Republic from Louisville says:

"Gov. Beckham is said to have decided not to declare himself for W. R. Hearst for President, but will favor an uninstructed delegation to the St. Louis, which shall consist of himself, Senators Blackburn and McCreary and Congressman David H. Smith as delegates-at-large.

The last-named three favor Judge Parker as the nominee. This is stated by the Louisville Herald to have been arrived at a conference between Gov. Beckham, W. B. Haldeman, editor of the Louisville Times and Henry Watterson, editor of the Courier-Journal.

Hearst's Next Fight.

Washington, May 6.—It is now said that the Hearst forces are planning to make their next big fight in the State of Ohio. Former Congressman J. J. Lentz, of Columbus, has been in Washington for several days, conferring with the Hearst management, and it is said that the decision to tackle in earnest was due largely to the representations made by Lentz. The Hearst men have been working in Ohio in a desultory sort of way for some time past, but Mr. Lentz wants to undertake a systematic campaign.

ASKS HEAVY DAMAGES.

Administrator of Dick Stoner Sues Coal Mining Company.

The administrator of Richard Stoner, coal, who was killed in the Empire mines last November, has filed suit here against the Empire Coal and Mining Company for $12,000 damages. It is alleged in the petition that while Stoner was at work in the mines the roof of the room fell, crushing him down on an electric machine over which he was attempting to make his escape, and he was thus killed. It is further claimed that the roof was unsafe and that the defendant knew of same.

Tied in a Knot.

Mr. L. M. Cayce, who is now located at Grenada, Miss., last week sent the Kentuckian a freak radish he found at Winona, Miss. It was of the long red variety and the peculiar part was that it had in growing tied itself into a knot. When allowed to wither and soften, it was untied and measured about eight inches.

AN ANCIENT MEDAL
Bearing the Coat of Arms of Sir George Canning.

Mr. Wm. Baker, who lives on the Hooser place, while working in his garden not long ago, unearthed a very old coin or medal, which no one here can explain. It is one inch in diameter and is about the size of a nickel. On one side is the head, profile view, of a distinguished looking gentleman, surrounded by the words "Rt. Hon. George Canning." On the other side is what appears to be a coat of arms. What seems to be a heron is standing on a low tomb or slab with its beak in the top of a plant similar in appearance to a stalk of corn. On the slab are the words: "Born (date effaced) Died Aug. 1827." Surrounding the crest, on the edge of the coin, is the inscription, "The Prince of National Freedom."

Sir George Canning was an English Statesman who was born in 1770 and died in 1827. Where the medal came from or what it represents is involved in doubt. The Hooser place is one of the old landmarks of Hopkinsville, formerly the home of the late D. J. Hooser, who died a few years ago.

DWELLING DESTROYED.
Outbuildings Caught and Were Also Consumed.

The residence of Mrs. Mary E. Morrison, near St. Elmo, was totally destroyed by fire about 1 o'clock Saturday morning. The origin of the blaze is not known to the members of the family, who just had time to get out in time to escape cremation. Nothing was saved from the house except such small articles as could be carried out by the family as they ran from the burning building. The fire spread from the house to the smoke house, which, with all its contents, was destroyed. A buggy house adjoining the smoke house containing a buggy, was also destroyed. It is understood that none of the property destroyed was insured. The misfortune leaves Mrs. Morrison in destitute circumstances.—Pembroke Journal.

SUDDENLY INSANE.

Became Sylvester Layne, and Tried to Thrunder Family.

Sylvester Layne, who moved from Christian county to Sedalia, Graves county, a few years ago was tried for lunacy at Mayfield Friday and ordered into confinement.

Layne went suddenly insane at his home near Sedalia and entering the home of James Usher armed with a knife, he tried to kill the whole family. He was finally overpowered, tied hand and foot and carried to Mayfield, arriving there late at night.

Officials of the court were called out of bed early Friday morning to conduct the trial, a jury was made up and the case was disposed of before breakfast.

A GREAT BUCKWHEAT BELT.

New York and Pennsylvania Lead in the Production of Grain—in Other Countries.

Buckwheat is raised in 24 states, growing as far south as Georgia and as far north as Maine. Last year New York stood at the head of the column of producing states with a crop of 3,280,155 bushels, with Pennsylvania a close second with 3,188,402 bushels. Third on the list was Maine, with only 710,760 bushels to her credit, while little Delaware came trailing in the last with 3,150 bushels, says the Country Gentleman. The average price realized by the farmers was 56 cents per bushel and the average yield was 15 bushels to the acre. Basing their calculations on a comparison of crop-fertilizers and labor expert agriculturists estimate that it is more profitable to raise buckwheat at 50 cents per bushel than wheat at $1. It is, therefore, not surprising that the farmers of the older states are giving more and more attention to this cereal every year.

The four counties of Armstrong, Indiana, Westmoreland and Butler in Pennsylvania have earned for themselves the title of the "buckwheat belt." In no other equal area in the United States is so much of this crop raised, as these four counties produce probably four-fifths of all that is raised in Pennsylvania. The production of New York is greater than that of the Keystone state, but is more generally distributed and not confined to comparatively restricted areas.

The buckwheat cake is a peculiarly American institution—such as much as the pumpkin pie, roast turkey and other toothsome delicacies dear to the heart of the epicure. The crop is cultivated in many lands, but the housewives of no other country have learned how to prepare it in such a manner as to tickle the palate of the lover of good living. In Great Britain it is considered unfit for human consumption, and is used only as food for pheasants and poultry. It is cultivated in India, where it is used on "buri" or feast days, being one of the foods that are lawful on those occasions. It is served to the Russian soldiers as a part of their rations, but is prepared in such a manner that it is said that no one but a Cossack or a starving man can eat it. In France it is called "sarsin," and is used as food by the very poorest of the peasantry. The French name is a bit of fossilized history, being a reminder of the fact that the grain was introduced by the crusaders, who introduced it from the Saracens of Asia Minor.

In Germany this grain is fed to cattle and poultry, but is not highly esteemed as food for human beings. Beer is there brewed from it and it is sometimes used in gin distilleries. The German name is "buckweizen," or beech wheat, so called from the resemblance of the sharp, triangular grains to beechnuts. In Japan it is extensively used as an article of diet and the Japanese variety is one of the most highly esteemed and most extensively cultivated by American farmers. The Japanese variety being considered more productive and hardy than the European or "silver hull." The grain is supposed to be a native of the basin of the Volga, the shores of the Caspian sea and parts of central Asia. Probably it was introduced into China and Japan by marauding Tartar centuries before it became known to Europeans.

Intelligence and Brain Weight. The intelligence of a man is stated to be in direct proportion to the weight of his brain. M. Mathiege, an anthropologist of Prague, has been conducting experiments into the matter. Having first ascertained that the male brain weighed on an average 1,400 grammes and the female brain 1,200 grammes between the ages of 20 and 60, he has gathered the following statistics, based on the study of the brains of 235 persons, differing widely in their occupation and intellectual culture. The weights of the brains of the different people are calculated in grammes. Day laborers, 1,400; workmen and unskilled laborers, 1,433; porters, guardians and watchmen, 1,436; mechanics, 1,450; business men, 1,466; physicians and professors, 1,500.

IN HOPKINSVILLE.

Every Claim is Backed by Local Testimony.

If the reader wants stronger proof than the following statement and experience of a resident of Hopkinsville, what can it be? James A. Twyman, brick mason, of 1230 S. Virginia street, says: "Disorders of the kidneys brought on in my case so sharp and continuing a succession of pains and aches through my back that I could not rest comfortably at night and arose in the morning lame and sore. I was tired and worn out from morning to night. The kidney secretions were irregular, high-colored and scalding and deposited a heavy sediment if allowed to stand. I had no energy left and felt generally run down. I was feeling worse than usual when my attention was attracted by an advertisement of Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a box at Thomas C. Traher's drug store and began using them. In a few days I noticed that the aches had assumed a natural appearance and the pain and aching had been greatly relieved, and by the time I had completed the box there was a wonderful change in my condition. I am glad to state that I am practically cured, and Doan's Kidney Pills will be my friend for life."

RESTORING LIFE TO DEAD.

Animals Revived by Methods to Be Used on Human Beings—Their Hearts Beat Again.

Dr. Crile presented a short paper on this subject, in which he gave a summary of experimental data, says the New York Medical Journal. When asphyxia caused failure of the heart and respiration, vigorous artificial respiration usually restored their functions when administered within a few seconds. It was effective in an inverse ratio to the time that had elapsed; it was rarely effective after 40 seconds. By the addition of saline infusion a larger proportion of animals could be resuscitated after the lapse of a little longer time. Rhythmic pressure upon the heart, either through the thorax by pressure upon the ribs over the heart or direct pressure within the thorax, was also an aid.

The effect of the traumatic to the heart by the direct method partially counterbalances the benefit from this measure. Nitroglycerin, alcohol and digitalis were useless; rapidly alternating the posture, head up, then head down, was not effective. Suspending the animal head down and making rhythmic pressure upon the heart was an effective method. This method gave the brain the advantage of gravity; it provided a moderate artificial circulation as well as respiration. It could be promptly applied. The addition of saline infusion increased the effectiveness of the method. Animals apparently dead for periods up to 15 minutes were resuscitated by the combined effect of artificial respiration, rhythmic pressure upon the heart and the infusion of adrenalin. Adrenalin, when injected directly into the chamber or into the wall of the heart, caused fibrillar contractions, after which the heart could not be resuscitated. After final cessation of the heart, by employing manual compression of the heart and infusing adrenalin, the blood pressure could be raised even higher than the normal. Respiration in some instances was partially restored.

Experiments in which saline infusion was substituted for adrenalin, and which were unsuccessful, were promptly successful on adding adrenalin. In a patient with crushed skull, whose heart had ceased beating for nine minutes, resuscitation of the heart for 33 minutes by this method was made. During the operation for the elevation of the depressed bone the patient moved his head.

Another patient, apparently dead from a severe crushing of the base of the skull, was partially resuscitated 24 minutes after the apparent death. The proofs of the apparent death were absence of respiration, absence of heart sound on stethoscope auscultation, and, as a final proof, on opening the jugular vein there was absolutely no circulation. In this case the blood pressure rose to 80 mm. at one time; voluntary respiration appeared. These evidences of vital action continued for 34 minutes.

After the Fire.

After a big fire in London some interesting notes were made on the safes which were excavated from the ruins. One safe had the brass handles and fittings completely melted and run into the keyhole, the contents of the safe being uninjured. Safes protected by brickwork or in cellars and basements generally escaped, and those taken first out of the ruins gave the best results. Safes falling from the upper stories into the center of the mountains of brickwork, which remained red-hot for days, had their contents charred beyond recognition. The leaves of many cash books could be separated and handled, although as black as coal, and the writing in ink was completely invisible, while, curiously enough, the ticks and corrections in pencil shone out like silver.

Railway Carpets.

The French minister of public works has taken up the question of sanitation in railway carriages. Circulars have been sent to the various railway companies ordering the immediate removal from railway carriages and stations of all non-washable carpets, and the cessation of the system of dry sweeping and cleaning. Even carriage seatings are to be in washable materials.

FOR CONGRESS,
HON. A. O. STANLEY, of Henderson county.

Secretary Shaw has signed the treasury warrant for $40,000,000 and yesterday delivered it to J. P. Morgan & Co., disbursing agents for the Panama government, thus completing the Panama Canal purchase. It is the largest warrant ever issued by the government, and its payment has left a deficit in the treasury.

There were important developments in the Eastern war last week. The Japanese invested Port Arthur by land as well as sea, and Admiral Alexieff escaped at the last moment by rail to Mukden, in the interior. The fall of Port Arthur in the near future is almost certain and the warships in the harbor, which Japan claims are bottled up, can only be saved by a miracle. The Russians have already been driven out of Korea and the Liaotung peninsula, and the war is hardly sixty days old. At this rate the Japs will be fighting on Russian territory before another three months has passed. Still the Russians take a hopeful view of things and it is said Gen. Kuropatkin has all along favored abandoning Port Arthur and concentrating an overwhelming army at Mukden or Harbin. The main trouble now is to save the remnant of the fleet at Port Arthur.

MORRIS CASE

Will Be Investigated By Council Thursday Night.

The Board of Council Friday night, at its regular meeting, failed to act upon the case of officer Lee A. Morris, who was suspended for striking Civil Engineer W. H. Taylor with his bully at the L. & N. depot. Neither side seemed ready to go into trial of the case. Both parties were present in person and by attorney. Judge C. H. Bush appeared for Mr. Morris and Mr. Jno. Feland for Mr. Taylor. An adjourned meeting will be held Thursday night for the trial of the case. In the meantime, officer Morris is still under suspension.

OLD MEMBERS RE-ELECTED.

Dr. Stites and Mr. Long Have No Opposition.

The regular election of trustees for the Public Schools was held Saturday, two of the seven trustees being elected for terms of 3 years. Dr. Frank M. Stites and Mr. William A. Long, the retiring members, were both re-elected without opposition. The vote was the smallest ever cast in a similar election in the city, only 102 votes being polled. Dr. Stites received 102 and Mr. Long 100.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

ALL THE SMITHS INVITED.

Louisville Man Willing to Spend $25,000 in Entertaining Family.

The Smith family, not specifically, but generally, will assemble in Louisville this fall, if the plan of John Cabell Smith, a wealthy Kentuckian, is concurred in by the Smiths at large.

Smith has issued a general invitation through the press to the Smiths of the country to assemble in Louisville for a three days' reunion, and he will defray all the expenses of entertainment. He says he is willing to spend $25,000 on his project, but that he will drop it unless he receives assurances that the Smith family of the United States will be represented by a fair proportion of those bearing the name. "There is no reason why several thousands should not attend," he says, "and in that event we could fix up a parade and other festivities that would startle the world. I want men, women and children and I want them to come prepared for a hilarious time. I want all who can come to notify me so that I can proceed with my plans."

It is useless to say that George, Denny, Elliott and Sam Smith, of this place together with all the other Smiths of the county, will attend.—Cadiz Record.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Adopts Resolutions on the Death of Mr. Stephen E. Trice.

Whereas, in the providence of God, brother Stephen E. Trice, after a service of fifty-six years, has been taken from us by death.

Resolved, That we hereby express the deep sense of our loss as a church, and the individual loss of so many of us who knew him intimately in the private walks of life.

That we make record of his high Christian character in daily life, his faithful attention to all church duties, his loyal support of all the enterprises of the Church and the liberal spirit that characterized him in all Christian work through the many years of his church membership.

That, although we are saddened by his loss, we rejoice in his long life of usefulness, and thank and praise the Lord for sparing him so long.

That we rejoice in the blessed hope that sustained our dear brother, and in the eternal rest that has come to him.

That we express our deepest sympathy for the loved ones who feel so deeply his loss, and ask for them the comforting, sustaining presence of the Holy Spirit in this sad hour of bereavement.

That a copy of these resolutions be placed in our records, and a copy sent to each of our denominational papers in the State and to our city papers.

INDEPENDENTS WIN

In Great Telephone Fight in Kansas City.

The Bell People Clearly Outclassed In the Modern Improvements In the Business.

The New Kansas City Home Telephone Company is having great success in its fight against the Bell Company in that territory. The most influential associations of business men in that city have decided to discontinue the use of the Missouri and Kansas (Bell) service and hereafter support the Kansas City Telephone Company service only. Among the associations that have taken this step and ordered the removal of the "Bell" instruments are the Retail Druggists', Retail Grocers', Liverymen's, Master Plumbers', Undertakers', Jackson County Medical Association and the Missouri Academy of Medicine. The Homeopathic physicians are ready to fall into line and this will make practically every physician in Kansas City, Mo., and Kansas City, Kas., subscribers for the Home telephones only. At a meeting held in the Coates House on April 13th the matter was thoroughly discussed by the business men. The Kansas City Times is speaking of the meeting says in part as follows:

"The meeting lasted nearly three hours. At least twenty men made speeches describing their grievances and ready to fall into line and this will make practically every physician in Kansas City, Mo., and Kansas City, Kas., subscribers for the Home telephones only. At a meeting held in the Coates House on April 13th the matter was thoroughly discussed by the business men. The Kansas City Times is speaking of the meeting says in part as follows:

"The Bell company did not give up without a struggle, as will be seen by the following extract from the Kansas City Journal of April 14, in its report of the same meeting: "The telephone controversy which the druggists have been identified ever since the entry of the Home company into the local field again claimed attention yesterday. At the last meeting of the association the Bell company made a proposition to furnish service to the druggists in various ways in order to forestall the contract that was to be entered into by the druggists to adopt the Home service exclusively. At the former meeting it was decided unanimously by the drug men to accept only the Home service and the latter company agreed to put in nickel-in-the-slot 'phones of any other kind that the druggists wanted."

"At yesterday's meeting the Home company presented a written proposal ratifying the formal verbal agreement which was accepted. The representatives of the Bell company asked to be allowed to make a new proposal to the druggists but they were not allowed to enter the meeting. They then sought a conference with President Riddle, but the latter told them that he was not authorized to treat with the Bell company. They asked him to take the matter before the druggists, which Dr. Riddle did. The druggists sent word to the Bell representatives that the matter of a telephone had been settled definitely and that nothing the Bell company could do would serve to square it with them."

"Dr. W. F. Morrow, chairman of the telephone committee of the Jackson County Medical Society, was present and told the druggists of the determination of his organization to stand by the Home company and that it was the company that had made the first proposition to lower telephone rates to business organizations. He pointed out that after the Home company had done this the former arrogant Bell company sought to come in on the competition and that he did not think it fair to consider the Bell company as a competing company. Dr. C. A. Ritter, president of the Academy of Medicine, stated substantially the same thing, as also did Dr. Stewart and Dr. Sawyer, each representing a different school of medicine.

"Carl Skaer stated that the grocers' association was with the doctors and druggists. It was stated at the meeting that thus far 157 members of the druggists' association had pledged themselves to subscribe only for the Home 'phone and that there were five at Independence who had done the same."

"It was stated by one of the speakers that where the Bell company had been ordered to take out its 'phones when those numbers were called 'central' was instructed to tell the caller that they were talking 'out of the city, or out of order, or anything except that the instruments had been taken out.'"

Vice President Snyder of the Kansas City Home Telephone Company had the following to say: "We have gained a great victory. We started our campaign several months ago among the business men's associations and last night's meeting is a very gratifying culmination of our systematic attack upon the enemy. The Home Telephone Company is on top and will continue to hold that position. We have now over six thousand subscribers, each one having a metallic circuit main line connection, and with the new apparatus and our new facilities since we moved into our present home in January last, we will give our subscribers the very best service obtainable. We opened our first toll line one month ago, to Independence, Mo., and the business has been immense from the very first. Since then we have opened a three circuit line to Topeka with results that are both flattering and highly satisfactory. We are also building out of Sedalia and will soon have a connection through that point with St. Louis, Indianapolis, Columbus, Cleveland and Toledo, as well as to Pittsburg, Kansas and all parts of Oklahoma. At the same time (about thirty days) we will have connection with St. Joseph, Atchison and Leavenworth."

"Besides the retailers' associations, which have voted to adopt our service, the manufacturers' association has appointed a committee to consider the advisability of following the example of the former, and we have every reason to believe that the report of the committee will be favorable to our company. We are receiving hundreds of new contracts and are installing as rapidly as possible with a greatly increased force. We do not know just how many telephones the revival company has in use, but we understand from a reliable source that they lost three thousand on the first of April."

The growth of the Kansas City Home Telephone Company has been one of the miracles of the independent movement, and the great property is a lasting monument to the sagacity, business ability and 'get there' qualities of Messrs. Barber, Seider and Brailey, the originators and promoters of the plant. It is the acme of telephone development and should be held up as a model and pointed to with pride by every man, woman or child who is interested in independent telephony.—Exchange.

DESERT TO BLOSSOM. DAILY WATER MELO

ARIZONA LANDS TO BE SUPPLIED WITH NEEDED WATER.

Government to Establish a Great Reservoir for the Conserving of the Water Supply for Irrigation.

It has been known for a good many years that much of the land in Arizona could be made exceedingly productive if a water supply were assured. Attempts have been made at irrigation, but the water supply of the rivers is such an uncertain quantity that it has been practically a failure. To-day there may be a flood of waters coursing through the rivers, and a few days later the river will have been reduced to a stream that is unable to supply the irrigation ditches with water. To illustrate by some figures taken in 1891, when the greatest flood ever known in Salt River valley since its settlement occurred.

On February 17 the mean discharge of Salt River was 836 second-feet, increasing the next day to 154,000 second-feet, and on the 19th to 276,000 second-feet. This first flood diminished rapidly, and on the 20th averaging only 69,100 second-feet and on the 22d 14,890.

This was followed by a second swell greater than the first, the flood increasing until the 24th, a maximum of 300,000 second-feet was reached. This subsided almost as rapidly as it came, so that by the second day after the river was carrying less than 15,000 second-feet.

It will be readily seen from these figures, which are a reliable index to the fluctuations of the flow of the rivers in the Salt River valley, that the water supply cannot be depended upon, and just when the cultivator needs water to mature his crops, burning, blistering, destroying drought is upon him. The unprecedented drought of the last three years has forced that section of Arizona to action, and government aid has been enlisted.

Sites for three reservoirs have been surveyed for the Salt River valley, which lies south of the center of Arizona territory and contains by far the largest irrigated area in the territory. The Tonto basin reservoir on the Salt River, the McDowell reservoir on the Verde River west of Tonto basin, and the Hornsboro reservoir to the north of the McDowell reservoir, also on the Verde River. These last two reservoirs it is estimated will have a capacity of about 200,000 acre-feet, but when they will be built is uncertain. The McDowell reservoir would cost $1,624,731. The government has begun active operations already for the construction of the Tonto basin reservoir.

The site of the dam which will inclose the immense body of water of this last-named reservoir is situated 40 miles from the nearest railroad point and the transportation of the immense amount of cement and other materials over the mountain roads was a serious and expensive proposition. The temptation was strong for the building of a dam of the rock-fill type, instead of a masonry dam, as it would be much cheaper and easier of construction.

It was estimated that it would take 100,000 barrels of cement for the masonry dam, and the haul of 40 miles would make it cost nine dollars a barrel. This made the dam practically prohibitive. But the engineers were loth to give up the plan of a masonry dam, and began investigations to see if there were not materials at hand for the making of cement. These efforts proved successful and a cement plant with a capacity of 300 barrels a day has been established near the dam site. The cost of the plant was $30,000. Water power is to be obtained by diverting water from the Salt River above the reservoir site through a canal above the proposed site and dropping it through a penstock just below the dam. Work on the canal is being pushed, and with the power thus obtained the plant will be run. Charcoal will be used for burning the cement briquettes, and the cost of producing the cement will be about two dollars per barrel.

The capacities of the proposed reservoir were determined by a plane-table survey for each ten-foot contour to a height of 200 feet above the bed of the river in the gorge.

APPEL JELLY RINGS.
nicely flavored with vegetables, and let the artichokes simmer until they are quite tender, then pass them through a hair sieve. Pour the pure into a clean stepan, and as soon as it is hot add the cream and ascertain if it has sufficient salt and pepper. Heat the milk, and as soon as the soup boils draw the pan to the side of the stove and stir them into it, and it will be ready to serve.

Pheasant Darioles—Ingredients:
Ten ounces cooked pheasant; four ounces panada; one ounce butter; two eggs; two tablespoonfuls thick brown sauce; one tablespoonful sherry; French macedoine vegetables, seasoning.

Pass the requisite quantity of pheasant through a mincer, then pound it with the butter, panada and eggs, working one into the ingredients before adding the second; season the farce with black pepper, salt, nutmeg, and a little cayenne, and moisten it with the brown sauce (which should be flavored with half the sherry, and rub it through a wire sieve. Butter some dariole molds and decorate them with preserved French vegetables, then fill them with the prepared pheasant, and place them in a very shallow stepan; cover them with buttered paper, and pour in sufficient boiling water to half cover the molds, then put the stepan into a fairly quick oven and cook the mixture until it feels firm, which should be in about 15 to 20 minutes.

Unmold carefully and dish the darioles upon a support of spinach, placed down the middle of a hot dish; pour some thick brown sauce round, and arrange the remainder of the vegetables (which should be heated in butter) in groups so that the colors contrast.

Apple Jelly Rings—Ingredients:
Two pounds apples; half pound castor sugar; three-quarters ounce French sheet gelatine; whipped cream, chopped burnt almonds, one lemon, green color, one dedicated coconut.

Wash the apples very thoroughly, cut them up without removing the peel, and put them into a stepan and let them cook gently until they are reduced to a pulp; they must be stirred constantly to prevent them from burning. Rub the pulp through a sieve with the sugar and the grated peel and juice of a lemon; when it is hot add the gelatine (previously softened by being dipped into cold water) and sufficient eggs into cold water) and sufficient coloring to make the pure a pretty color. When the gelatine has dissolved pour the apple into a baking tin, which has been lightly rubbed over with oil (the tin should, of course, have sides and a bright surface), so that it is about an inch thick all over. Stamp out the apple with a quite firm Stamp out the apple with a cutter, and remove the middle of each round, scatter some of the chopped almonds round the edge of each and place some stiffly whipped cream (slightly sweetened and flavored with vanilla) in the middle of the rings, and over the cream sprinkle some decorated coconut.

Aspic of Pate de Foie Gras—Ingredients:
One and one-half pint aspic jelly; half pint foie gras; salt; mayonnaise sauce.

Pour a small quantity of clear pale golden aspic jelly into an ornamental border mold, which has been rinsed with cold water, and as soon as it is set put in some pate de foie gras rolled into little balls; cover them with jelly (which should be cool, though liquid) and when it is firm add more foie gras in the same way until the mold is full, and leave it either on ice or in a cold until the jelly is ready to turn out.

DR. PIERCE'S Favorite Prescription

"I Wrote to You for Advice."

"A little over a year ago I wrote to you for advice," says Mrs. Elizabeth J. Fisher, of Diana, Va. "You advised me to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' which I did, and with the most happy result. I was troubled with female weakness and bearing-down pains. Had a very bad pain nearly all the time in my left side, nervousness and headache. Was so weak I could hardly walk across my room. Could not sit up only just a little while at a time. My husband got me some of Dr. Pierce's medicine, and I began its use. Before I had taken two bottles I was able to help do my work. I used three bottles in all and it cured me. Now I do all my housework. It is the best medicine I ever used."

Every weak or sick woman is invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free, and no obtain, without charge, the opinion of a specialist upon her condition. All correspondence is held as strictly private, and the written confidences of women are guarded by the same strict professional privacy observed by Dr. Pierce and his staff in their consultations with weak and sick women at the Trivalde Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., of which institution Dr. Pierce is Chief Consulting Physician. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

If you are led to the purchase of "Favorite Prescription" because of its cures of other women do not accept a substitute with none of these cures to its credit.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness.

"I Wrote You About My Case."

"About two years ago I was feeling very bad, could neither eat, sleep nor work. I was very nervous and all run down," writes Miss Alice Greely, of Westminster, N. J. "I had taken Sarsaparilla and had medicines of different kinds from my home doctor, but they did me no good whatever. Finally, I wrote you about my case and you prescribed your medicine. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and took six bottles, also four of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and some of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets; these medicines cured me and made me well and strong. I am a new person to what I was before I commenced taking the medicine. Please accept my sincere thanks for benefit I have derived from your medicine."

QUEER CANDLE AUCTIONS.

Method Still Employed in a Few English Parishes--Hiding Ships When Flame Dies.

A curious method of sale by auction, which is still observed in one or two places as a matter of ancient custom, but which was once very common, is sale by candle. says the Ashton (English) Reporter. A fragment of candle, an inch or less in length, was lighted as the thing to be sold was put up, and the auctioneer received bids so long as the candle burned. The successful bid was the last made before the flame went out. When the competition has all been it must have required considerable acuteness and a nice power of discrimination on the part of the salesman to know who spoke last. Mr. Pope gives a graphic description of the sale of some old hulks in the Thames "by the candle" and remarks that it was pleasant to see how backward men were at first to bid, but when the candle was going out they bawled!

At another admiralty sale, conducted by a like method, the same chronicler says that the competition was so sharp that they had much difficulty in telling who cried last. Some curious things besides wornout ships were sold by candle. In 1684 it was advertised that two elephants, the one male and the other female, would be "exposed to sale by candle" and that "the price and places where to be seen and sold" were to be notified later by means of printed bills. The price, which was to be so published, was, presumably, the upset price fixed by the vendor. One can hardly imagine that the bidding was very lively for the two ponderous creatures or that any prospective buyers, save perhaps an itinerant showman or two, would be likely to attend the sale.

Another unusual sale was advertised in the following year in the London Gazette, where it was announced that there would be "exposed to sale by the candle at the Marine and Carolina coffee house, in Birchin lane" all sorts of playing cards, in small lots, surveyed by Robert Whitfield, master cardmaker (appointed by approbation of the company of cardmakers for that purpose). It is curious that the custom of selling by the candle was flourishing recently and perhaps still flourishes in the far east. In the consular report on the trade of Saigon and Cochin China, issued in 1878, it was stated that certain descriptions of lands were only to be obtained at public sale which were conducted by the candle, the dying out of three lights before a higher bid was made concluding the bargain. The method was probably introduced by the French and brought hence to this country. In a few English parishes the candle method is still employed in the periodical letting of public land to the highest bidder.

THE FOUNDER OF QUEBEC.

Facts Concerning Champlain--Discovery of Lake Bearing His Name--First Battle with Iroquois.

Champlain was a bold and skillful French navigator; he founded Quebec in 1608, and having established friendly relations with the Indians along the St. Lawrence, marched a body of those, with some Hurons and others, against the Iroquois in 1609, says the Four Star News. His accounts of that expedition and of another made in 1615 into New York state territory, are among the most interesting of the Paris documents. The expedition of 1609 reached the lake (to which Champlain gave his own name), upon which it passed in canoes to a point in what is now the town of Ticonderoga, where he encountered about 200 of the Iroquois armed only with bows and arrows, and a battle followed. What he wrote of the engagement is both romantic and pathetic:

"The moment they (the Iroquois) saw me they halted, gazing at me and I at them. When I saw them preparing to shoot at us, I raised my arquebus, and aimed directly at one of the three chiefs. Two of them fell to the ground by this shot; one of their companions receiving a wound from which he died afterwards. I had put four balls in my arquebus. . . . The Iroquois were greatly astonished at seeing two men killed so instantaneously."

CABLES UNDER THE OCEAN.

Cost of Telegraphy Through Their Medium Is Largely Reduced—Other Interesting Facts.

It still costs a good deal of money to send a long dispatch across, or under, the Atlantic ocean, but the rates have been greatly reduced since the first deep sea cable was laid.

In the early days of submarine cables the minimum tariff was $100 for 20 words and $5 for each additional word. This was reduced after a few years to $25 for ten words. In 1872 a rate of $1 a word was introduced. The word-rate system proved popular and was soon established universally. Since 1888 the cable rate across the Atlantic has been down to 25 cents a word, and the tariff now ranges from that figure to $5 a word between England and Peru. The average for the whole world is $1 a word, and this the Commercial Cable company charges from America to the Philippines, as against the former toll of $2.35. From New York to New Zealand the charge is only $1.50 a word. There are 300,000 miles of submarine cables, enough to go eight times around the globe. Their cost was about $200,000,000. Their present value is $300,000,000. Deep sea cables are a solid investment. The shortest cable is one-fourth mile in length; the longest is 15,000 miles. The total number is 1,700. Nearly all of the shorter lines are the property of governments. They aggregate 15 per cent of the whole.

Private corporations own 420 cables, or 85 per cent of the total mileage. The life of a deep-sea cable is from 30 to 40 years. The main portion lies in a bed of ooze two miles or more beneath the surface of the water and is practically imperishable. In shallow water cables are attacked by sharks, swordfish, sawfish, rocks and anchors. In the Fifth of North 13 ships' anchors were once found entangled in a length of four miles of cables.

ELECTRICITY AND HEALTH.

Possible Explanation of One Effect of Thunderstorms—Scientific Facts and Theories.

For a long time it has been known, says Public Opinion, that atmospheric electricity keenly affects us, and investigators have shown that positive electricity produces vigor and a feeling of general good health, while on the contrary negative electricity has a depressing effect. We are submitted to these contrary effects according to the state of the atmosphere, sometimes negative electricity dominating, at other times the positive element, it being possible to determine the electrical condition by means of delicate instruments.

A German meteorologist, Dr. Schliep, claims that it is possible to determine approximately the condition of the atmosphere by comparing the curves of the registering barometer on one hand with those of the thermometer and the hygrometer on the other. Dr. Schliep states that when the barometer descends while the thermometer and hygrometer ascend, the atmosphere is charged with negative electricity, while the electricity of the air is positive when the barometer ascends and the thermometer lowers.

A naval physician, Dr. Jolly, has applied the Schliep rule in Madagascar, and by comparing the instruments he has been able to fix the changes of the electrical condition, changes which vary during the day and night. During the dry season there was an excess of positive electricity, while during the winter there was an excess of negative, Dr. Jolly observing that both in his own case and that of other subjects the best condition of health was correspondent to the positive discharges, while during periods of negative dominance there was weakness and lassitude. These changes also have their echo in the state of general health, notably in fevers.

Remarkable Cures Made By the Use of Payne's Remedy.

Dr. Payne and his street concerts continue to be the chief topic of discussion.

His medicine is working wonders and another tapeworm of immense length was yesterday exhibited alive, that was taken from a well known butcher, of the city.

His concerts are being held daily on Ninth street and beginning to-night the concerts will be given in the vacant lot corner 14th and Clay streets, opposite Foulk's coal yard, instead of at Mercer's park.

Who hobbles around on that old crutch all summer—see what Payne's Remedies are doing for others, it can do the same for you.

Mr. Hill, hackman of this place, had not been able to walk without his crutches for several months, owing to a bad case of rheumatism, he is using Payne's New Discovery and Quick Relief and now goes where he chooses without crutch or cane.

Mrs. Robert McCombs, who lives on the Canton Pike, seven miles from town had been using crutches for some time, her husband bought some of Payne's Remedies Monday and now reports that she has laid aside her crutches.

Payne's New Discovery is not a cure all, but is positively guaranteed to cure rheumatism, catarrh, stomach trouble, piles of any form. The price of this remedy is $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5. With a bank draft guarantee that if it fails to cure anything for which it is recommended, the money will be refunded.

NEAR HIS BRIDE

For a Week Before Groom Disclosed His Identity.

Madisonville, Ky., May 8.—A pretty romance preceded the marriage at the Boyd Tavern, at Oak City, Ky., yesterday morning of J. N. Orgdon, of Redlands, Cal., and Miss Susie Boyd. In answer to an advertisement the couple began to correspond about a year ago, when portraits were exchanged. The young lady engaged in the matter for mere pastime, but a real betrothal by mail followed.

About a week ago a young man arrived at Oak Grove, and took lodging at the Boyd Inn, giving his name as Don Carlos Greene. He claimed to be prospecting in mineral lands around the place. He kept up his incognito for a few days, during which time he was a close observer of his bride to be. When he was satisfied that all his expectations as to her conduct and character were realized, he announced himself to her as her future husband.

They are now on their way to the home of the groom in California. Mr. Orgdon is reputed to be very wealthy.

Feland and Undergoe, for the prosecution; Judge Fowler and Mr. Meacham for the defense, assures an interchange of wit and repartee that the public rarely has an opportunity to enjoy. The indictment against Mr. L. A. Tuggle is of such a nature as to arouse the keenest interest among all the young people of the city. Some of the most popular young ladies are to be witnesses against him, while others are to testify in his behalf.

Those mentioned in the indictment are Misses Joy Herndon, Mary Jones and Jean McKee.

$200,000 Libel Suit.

Dr. R. V. Pierce's company, The World's Dispensary Medical Association, of Buffalo, N. Y., has brought a suit for libel against the publishers of The Ladies' Home Journal, of Philadelphia, for $200,000 damages. The sworn complaint has been filed in the Clerk's office at Buffalo, N. Y. It appears from this that The Ladies' Home Journal in a recent number published an attack on patent medicines. This article charged that the well-known remedy, called "Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription," contained seventeen per cent. of alcohol, also certain drugs, and that these ingredients made the medicine harmful and dangerous. The sworn statement is wholly and absolutely false in every particular, and that the medicine contains no deleterious ingredients whatever, and none of the ingredients stated in the article so published, being made of certain extracts of medicinal plants and roots—harmless to the most delicate constitution.

When called upon, Dr. V. Mott Pierce an officer of the company said:

"In a recent article, The Ladies' Home Journal made this wholly unfounded attack upon our remedy. The charges made against our medicine are absolutely false, as the complaint in our suit shows. We find it hard to understand how a reputable magazine of the high standing and enormous circulation of the Ladies' Home Journal should make such a damaging statement without taking pains to ascertain the facts. The remedy, 'Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription' is so well and favorably known, and has such a wide sale, that we could not afford to allow such a charge to pass unanswered. The fact is the 'Favorite Prescription' is composed of extracts of medicinal plants, roots and herbs, which would not harm the most delicate system. It is a false and unfounded attack upon the good name and repute of our company."

SONG OF THE OSBORNE.

The time has come, the Walrus said,
To talk of things that hem us in.
The Tobacco trust, the Binder trust,
And other trusts that might have been
The Walrus fights with his mighty tooth
The fish will use his prickly fin,
And we must fight with the sword of tru
Or these big trusts will hem us in.
Trust means bust, to bust is---well,
N' trust, no bust, no---need to tell.
If you buy a Binder from the trusts,
And all repairs are given free,
When it's time to pay, you have't the dust
At the price you get for Tobacco---SEE?
A Binder's dear at any price,
And all things else that you may buy
When the trusts have got you in a vice,
For they get all the chicken pie.
The OSBORNE is a fine machine,
Not in the trust---will never be
T'will cut your wheat crop quick and clean,
And put the big trust up a tree.
